

Vermont Chapter report for 2020

Another quiet year in the Green Mountain State, although there has been a marked increase in hiker activity throughout the state. AT/LT Trailhead parking lots have often been filled especially on weekends. Fire tower visits have increased which will hopefully promote future FFLA Memberships.

The Stratton Mountain caretakers were not present this year due to COVID concerns, but are planning on returning in 2021 (These folks have been on the mountain for 50 years).

In the northern part of the state, Kevin Williamson reports that a newly restored observation tower has been placed on Vista Peak atop the Bolton Valley Ski Area. He also reports that the Monadnock Mountain trail and fire tower has been closed to public access.
